Local historians have been looking up in the Norwich Bulletin files accounts of the exciting times forty-five years ago, following the assassination of Lincoln on April 14, 1865.

An important accession to the Otis library this month is the Life of St.
Ignatius, by Francis Thompson, author of the Life of Shelley, and the much quoted poem, The Hound of Heaven.

A meeting of the state tuberculosis commission has been called for today (Monday), at the state capital at Harford. Dr. George H. Knight, the new commissioner, will meet with the commission for the first time.

The feature of the week at Yale will be the Bromley lectures, provided by the gift of a fund to the university in 1890 from Mrs. Adeline E. Bromley, in memory of her husband, Isaac H. Bromley of the class of 1853, formerly editor of The Bulletin.

State Tax Commissioner William H.
Corbin has gone to Mobile to attend the national conference of sheldish commissioners, where he will appear as the special representative of this state. He will be in Mobile Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A Manchester correspondent states that Engineer Frank Kromer, from Norwich, with five other engineers, arrived in Millstone Friday evening and Saturday morning for Love Lane, East Hartford, to make the final survey at that end for the Norwich-Colchester trolley line.

For the first time since the foundation of the national organization, Mrs.
Sara T. Kinney of Hartford, formerly state regent of Connecticut, will not attend the D. C. March meeting. Mrs.
Kinney is not well enough to take the journey, and the Connecticut daughters will miss her greatly.

The postoffice department has issued an order that the prohibition against the sealing of parcels post packages for foreign countries does not apply to listed men of the Connecticut National guard in accordance with Section 2045, military law, so far as it pertains to qualifications in small arms firing as sharpshooters, expert riflemen and experts in marksmanship, the record practice of the preceding year as published in general orders, A. G. O., will be the basis for such computation.

Convention Delegates Reported.
At their regular meeting on Sunday evening at the Buckingham Memorial the Young People's Christian union the Universal church heard reports from the two delegates, H. Malmgren, and C. B. Capron, who had been at the recent state convention in Danbury.
Miss Edith Washburn and Miss Mildred L. Comstock were the delegates, giving a good account of the convention proceedings by the reports they presented.

Wrote Black Hand Letters.
It developed in New London on Sunday that Tony Lattano, a shoemaker of that city, who had been receiving Black Hand letters, demanding money, has been writing them to himself. It is said he hoped to get money from his wife's parents with which to pay up some of his indebtedness. It is stated that he had a valuable ring in his possession.

Los Angeles a Beautiful City.
The Norwich party, J. C. Bland, Dr.
P. H. Harriman and Rev. W. A.
Keefe, have been in Los Angeles since April 13. They are all well and having a grand time. They find Los Angeles a beautiful city. The homes are being given a great time there. As guests of the Knights of Columbus they attended a gathering in the return house by Bishop J. J. Keane of Cheyenne, Wyo.

garet Sullivan of Boswell avenue.

Otto Crumb, who has been in Willington, Del., since last fall, working in a pistol shop, has returned to his home on High street in poor health because of the malaria prevalent in Wilmington. He does not intend to return there.

SERVICE AT HOSPITAL.
Pleasing Programme Carried Out by Class Circle of King's Daughters.

On Sunday afternoon Class Circle of the King's Daughters was in charge of the programme at Backus hospital, furnishing a programme particularly pleasing to all the inmates, as the circle had arranged to have the vested choir of 21 young women from Trinity Methodist Episcopal church sing at the hospital. The choir was under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Aldrich-Crowell and Mrs. George T. Lord, with Miss Alice L. Woodward, accompanist. A number of visitors were present.

The programme began with the processional hymn, The Banner of the Cross as the choir marched through the wards. The other numbers in which the sweet voices brought a cheering message were as follows: Ho Will Hold Me Fast, My Faith Looks Up to Thee; anthem, My Hand is in My Father's Hand, solo part taken by Miss Anna Haglund and Clara Odgers; anthem, Gather We Here to Praise the Lord, solo part taken by Miss Anna Haglund and Clara Odgers; duet and chorus, Songs in the Night, Misses Anna Haglund and Clara Odgers and other anthem, I Am He Thine, I Live, solo by Mrs. Grace

NORWICH BULLETIN, MONDAY, APRIL 18, 1910

CAVODDATE FOR STATE TREASURER

Mayor Costello Lippitt Makes First Announcement—Has United Support of This End of the State—No Opposition Looked for—Qualifications for the Office are the Best.

Mayor Costello Lippitt on Saturday made formal announcement of his candidacy for the state treasurership on the republican ticket. While the first declaration of this nature by Mr. Lippitt, it will not be in the nature of a surprise, having been discussed and expected for some time. The probability of his candidacy has met with marked favor throughout the state from the time it was first mentioned, the public and press alike having expressed interest, but approval, and remarked particularly on his fitness for the office.

It is not anticipated that there will be the slightest opposition and it can be safely said now that he has the united support of this section of the state. He closes two successful years as mayor of Norwich in June. As regards the governorship contest, he has expressed no affiliation with either of the candidates, having hitherto been any such entanglement. Locally Mr.
Lippitt has been a strong party member, and his choice on the republican ticket as the nominee for mayor resulted in his election.

As to his qualifications for the office of state treasurer, it is a well recognized fact that he is eminently fitted for the place, as his long term of service with the Norwich Savings society, the second largest savings bank in the state, indicates. Starting in there as a boy forty-six years ago, he has steadily risen until he was made the secretary and treasurer of the bank, which office he has held a number of years. His ability has also been recognized in his election to many other offices of trust and honor. He is president of the Merchants' National bank, secretary and treasurer of the Ethel Huntington Memorial home, secretary of the board of trustees of the Norwich Free Academy, treasurer of the Groton and Storington service, treasurer of the grand commandery, K. T., of Connecticut, president of the board of trustees of the Norwich hospital for the insane, president of the Norwich, Colchester and Hartford Traction company. He is a graduate of Wesleyan university, where he took the degrees of BAITH, PATIENCE, PURITY.

Dominant Traits of Foster Father of the Savior—Feast of Patronage of St.
Joseph at St. Patrick's Church.

"The white flower of a blameless life" was suggested by the purity of the lilies which decorated the altar of St. Joseph in St. Patrick's church on Sunday, flowers and lights having been effectively arranged by the Sisters of Mercy in honor of the feast of the Patronage of St. Joseph, the exemplar of purity in Christian manhood. High March was celebrated by the Rev. L.
PittPatrick. At the offertory there was an Ave Maria in which the tenor solo singing was admirably sustained by Roderick F. Sullivan, Miss Greeley joining in the duet which completed the hymn.

"Go to Joseph, whatever he saith to you, do," the words spoken of the first Joseph, Gen. xl. 5, was the text from which the Rev. J. J.
McCarthy preached on the second Joseph as the type of unquestioning faith. The authority given by Pharaoh to the sage steward of his household and possessions because of his fidelity, sincerity, devotedness to his master's service prefigured the grace and powers with which the Savior was endowed. The man thought worthy to be the earthly guardian of the Word incarnate and of His Mother, the Blessed Virgin.

Joseph sets men the example of fidelity to those inspirations with which God went to visit the soul.
He received the astounding message of the angel without questioning, and believed later that the helpless Babe of Bethlehem was the Son of God. He obeyed the second message to take the Child and His Mother into Egypt, and he was equally submissive in responding to the command to return with them to the land of Israel in Nazareth, where he furnished to succeeding generations the type of the worthy head of the Christian home, the father who comes without compromise to the service of his Lord, of the chaste protector of the Woman and the Child.
To him were given the proofs which later convinced the disciples that he was the Son of God, the Savior of the world, the King of Heaven and earth, the Lord of Life and death, the Father of the Fatherless, the Father of the Poor, the Father of the Sinner, the Father of the Orphan, the Father of the Widow, the Father of the Lame, the Father of the Deaf, the Father of the Blind, the Father of the Mute, the Father of the Leprous, the Father of the Feverish, the Father of the Frenzied, the Father of the Dying, the Father of the Dead, the Father of the Living, the Father of the World.

Other lessons deduced from the
